

Thursday.

PARIS... EN FLANANT

Lo Cité Notre-Dame

Today was rather cloudy, but surprisingly hot.

I have so much work to do at the Foreign Ministry, it looks now as if I shan't be able to get home before the middle of next week. I am of course very sorry not to be spending the weekend at Havreham, but may I hope to be there after? (I ask, because I have forgotten when all the various members of family are coming to stay, & there perhaps might be a bit of a squash!) I got to Paris 1886 to day, so it's not too bad, but I still have till the end of '87 & lots of odds & ends. There will be 2000.

983
15, r. Martel
Paris, 15
d'Art
Reproduction interdite, Fabrication Française

Mr. & Mrs. H. C. Peltet,
"Havreham"

Beech Road
HASLETTERE

Survey

ANGLETTERE