

V. Gimignano - Le Torri

Scia. Saturday evening.

I almost forgot to thank you for your card which we collected at Florence.

This is where we stayed last night. It is the most wonderful medieval walled town perched on the top of a hill with many old houses with towers. This morning we saw a very early (10th century) church & the town's museum & then set off again on our bikes. The country side is so beautiful - I wish you could see it. We arrived in Siena at about 7pm & I am writing this having coffee in the main square where the famous horse race is held every year. This is a most picturesque little medieval town with narrow streets & gothic-looking houses & many old churches.
