

9.55. Blois 7.15 Tomorrow we go to Tours visiting Chambord and Amboise on the way.

CHAMBORD (Loir-et-Cher)

Le Château (XVI's.) et le Gosson

Today we have been to Chambord, Cheveney and Beauregard, the first built almost entirely by Francis I. is magnificent & huge as you can see on the other side but is unfurnished. Cheveney is partially ruined and is furnished and although much smaller is beautifully kept both inside and out and very pretty.

Beauregard is small but charming with much old carving & paintings.

Today Blois is full of children taking their first Communion, and most pretty they look, the girls in white & the boys in their grey and black Eton suits with white bows on their arms.
 There is a noisy celebration party going on at the moment in the bar of the hotel here where a small girl has received her first Communion & is drinking in church.
 It has rained heavily all day today. Much love. H.

Mrs. H. Pettet,
 Ravenham
 Beech Road,
 Haslemere
 Surrey
 Angleterre.

His Commercial Manager, Mr. J. H. Porter, 11, Place de la Madeleine, Paris

41 034 7235 004

Photo. Véritable