This afternoon we are in this spectacular town where we have visited the Palace of Duke Frederick and the house where Raphael was born. There is an original Raphael in the Palace and a wall painting in his house. The town is built on two hills and the castle walls are stupendous in height and all brickwork. The countryside around is very rich and intensively cultivated as the park & a great variety of vegetables besides corn, hay & grapes.

We have had so many strawberries that we are getting slightly tired of them. We bathed this morning in a delightful warm sea, weather hot & sunny.
